Key milestone dates for the programme/ project:

Public consultation will be held 15th May to 4th August 2017.

The results of the consultation will feed into revisions to the guidance before it is published.

The revised guidance will be published by 25th August 2017.

STAGE 1: PLANNING

What are the aims and objectives of the policy?

What are the desired outcomes/ what constitutes 'success'?

The Supporting People Programme is a Welsh Government programme that helps approximately 60,000 people each year to live independently. This Guidance replaces the previous: Supporting People Programme Grant (SPPG), Guidance – Wales (June 2013).

The Supporting People Programme provides vital support to people who find themselves in very difficult circumstances. It helps some of Wales' most vulnerable people to live independently in their own home or supported housing.

It is an early intervention programme which prevents people from becoming homeless or helps homeless people to find and keep accommodation. It helps vulnerable people address problems, sometimes multiple problems, such as debt, employment, tenancy management, substance misuse, and mental health issues. The support is geared to what people need e.g. to help deal with mental health problems and/or substance misuse, help to improve their health and well-being and/or helped them progress into, or nearer to, a job or training opportunity.

Part 2 of the Housing (Wales) Act 2014, the core of which is to prevent homelessness. The Programme reduces or prevents the need for more costly interventions by the NHS and/or social care for individuals and families and, in some cases, people who fall into the criminal justice system. It is essential that the Programme has a clear vision, is underpinned by strong values and its strategic objectives include how it works with and complements other Welsh Government programmes to maximise efficiency.

What policy options have been considered?

What impacts will there be if the policy is not implemented?

The revised Guidance does not suggest a change in policy. It has been developed by external partners in close collaboration with the Welsh Government. It provides practical advice and guidance to practitioners, with the aim of putting the service user at the heart of the Programme, ensuring quality services are delivered as efficiently and effectively as possible.

The previous guidance has been in use since 2012. The revised guidance is more concise, highlights high level principles such as a focus on homelessness prevention, clarifies governance arrangements, and reflects wider changes to Welsh Government policy and legislation.

Does the programme demonstrate a clear link with the Welsh Government's strategy for the Welsh language - laith fyw: laith byw?

Yes – The strategy, citing the 2011 Census, indicates that there has been a further decline in the number of communities in Wales where over 70 per cent of the population can speak Welsh – as well as a decline in the number of communities where the majority of the population can speak the language. It identifies that inward and outward migration processes, limited employment opportunities and limited availability of affordable housing for local people have had profound effects on the demographic and linguistic profile of many communities. Going forward the Programme will ensure links with the published Cymraeg 2050 strategy which aims to introduce the vision of reaching a million Welsh speakers by 2050. The goal of a million Welsh speakers is also a commitment within the Programme for Government, Taking Wales Forward 2016-21. In addition, the Well-being of Future Generations (Wales) Act 2015 included the Welsh language within one of its seven well-being goals, and it is clear that enabling vulnerable people to engage with support from the outset in Welsh if they choose to, can help to drive uptake of available support and encourage greater engagement.

The Welsh Government provides funding to local authorities to spend according with the locally identified needs. As part of the local authority contracts they ensure that they fully comply with the Welsh Language Standards and services provided are able to be provided in Welsh where needed across the whole of Wales in line with duties imposed on Welsh Ministers under the Welsh Language Standards. Any correspondence provided by Welsh Government to be used with our stakeholders is provided bilingually. Additionally the Grant Terms and Conditions as provided to local authorities contains the requirement below:

Welsh Language

Where the Purposes include or relate to the provision of services in Wales they must be provided in such a way as to not treat the Welsh language less favourably than English, in line with the Welsh Language Measure (Wales) 2011.

What are the impacts/ effects (both positive and/or adverse) on the Welsh language you have identified at the initial planning stage i.e. Welsh speakers, Welsh language communities, Welsh medium education, Welsh learners, services available in Welsh?

There are no impacts/effects on the Welsh language identified at the initial planning stage. Services have been provided, via local authority contracts as outlined above, in Welsh where needed for some time and local authorities continue to ensure this is the case. However, going forward, as part of the reviews of local authorities we undertake we will ensure they are complying with the Welsh Language Standards in line with their duties.

Who are the stakeholders? Are the needs of Welsh speakers and learners addressed? To what extent are Welsh language interest groups likely to respond positively to the proposals?

Stakeholders for this consultation are local authorities and Supporting People service providers, along with any other people with an interest in the scheme including people who access the services.

The consultation has been provided in Welsh and English and additional questions will be added to the consultation to query the impact of the guidance changes, and implementation of those changes which is likely to be of interest to Welsh Language interest groups. These will also be discussed at the consultation event. Currently however, there is no reason to believe responses would be anything less than positive.

Where an assessment was not completed, or no impacts were identified, please provide a full account for record keeping purposes?

(This could be used in the Welsh Language Tribunal in future)

At this initial stage of the consultation process, no negative impacts have been identified. Positive impacts for Welsh speaking communities is that Supporting People services will continue to be provided in the language most suitable for the person receiving the service to help them gain and maintain a tenancy, regain independence and/or remain in their own home thereby preventing homelessness.

What actions/ further work has been identified at the initial planning stage?

e.g. data requirements, need for peer review, external engagement with Welsh speaking groups, identify stakeholders or consultation list, need to contact Welsh Language Unit for advice)?

No further action has been identified at this stage, however as part of the consultation an event will be undertaken to publicise this work and encourage feedback, which will be run using translation services where needed. When the responses have been received for the Outcome Framework consultation the new Framework and the toolkit used to collect the data will include Welsh language considerations and be provided bilingually.

STAGE 2: IDENTIFYING AND ASSESSING IMPACTS

Impact Assessment Summary

Summarise the detailed impact assessment carried out together with the scores assigned.

Positive effects/ impacts:

The Supporting People Programme is already in existence, and support is available in Welsh, and this is a refresh of the guidance that has been available since 2012. There is an opportunity to promote the services of the programme and the availability of Welsh language, encouraging more Welsh speakers to communicate in their chosen language by ensuring that the guidance complies with duties under the Welsh Language standards. This will ensure greater understanding of the programme and increase inclusion.

Adverse effects/ impacts:

No adverse impacts have been identified. We have recognised that our guidance can state the availability of support using the Welsh language and this will be rectified post consultation.

Opportunities to promote the Welsh language e.g. status, use of Welsh language services, use of Welsh in everyday life, Welsh at work increased?

As stated above, the programme already provides services in Welsh where required and we have identified an opportunity to reinforce the availability of services in Welsh.

Evidence/ data used including demographic profile when considering the effects/ impacts:

- A Living Language: a Language for Living – Welsh Language Strategy 2012-2017.
- Supporting People Programme Guidance – 2012.
- Supporting People Programme – Local Authority Reviews – 2015-2017.
- Discussions with local authorities.
- Guidance development with the Supporting People Governance Group (officials and stakeholders).
- Contributions from stakeholders.

What is the overall anticipated likely impact on the Welsh language if this policy is taken forward based on the impact assessment/ risk assessment?
