

Any objections if I tweet the following (in our quote template for the Cab Sec) today? I don't want to directly address the drop in international students but instead focus on that's why it's so important we keep selling Wales abroad, etc.

My reaction to @unis_wales report on economic impact of international students:

“Wales continues to be recognised internationally as an exceptional place to study and live, with a reputation for excellence. This report demonstrates that the strength of Welsh universities in attracting students from all over the world to study here brings both social and economic value to our campuses and communities.

“As the report shows, international students make a significant contribution to the wider Welsh economy. That's why it's so important we keep being proactive in selling Wales abroad as a place to study, work and live.

“At the end of this week I will be heading out to Vietnam to lead a trade and education mission as part of the Global Wales initiative. While I'm there I will be looking at ways in which we can boost student recruitment and research collaboration and to promote the excellence of our Welsh universities.”

Swyddfa'r Wasg/Press Office
Addysg/Education
Llywodraeth Cymru/Welsh Government
Ffôn/Tel:

