Our Response

The Welsh Government does not collect this information.

The information requested will be contained within individuals' care and support plans or support plans for carers prepared under the Social Services and Well-being (Wales) Act 2014 or care and treatment plans prepared under the Mental Health (Wales) Measure 2010.

If you have not already done so, it is open to you to consider directing these questions to local authorities, local health boards and NHS Trusts in Wales. However, I would anticipate such a request would require each organisation to undertake a manual trawl of their records.

To give you an idea of the scale of such a request, during 2016/17, approximately 23,000 care and support plans and support plans were prepared under the 2014 Act. There were 23,749 patients in receipt of secondary Mental Health services at the end of September 2017. Of these, 21,453 (90.3%) had a valid Care and Treatment Plan under the Mental Health (Wales) Measure 2010.
