

Breakdown of the 1,660 responses to the consultation, on which groups submitted responses (i.e. parents, faith groups, charities etc.)

The White Paper consultation, 'Our National Mission: A Transformational Curriculum in January 2019' contained questions on the principles around having the right to withdraw from RSE and RE in the new curriculum.

A link to the analysis of the White paper consultation questions on right to withdraw is attached and the relevant sections are on pages 39-41.

The purpose of the further Access to the Full Curriculum consultation was to help us to understand what the practical implications of such a decision would be, and to gather more feedback from parents, teachers and children and young people. A link to the analysis of the response data for the consultation on Access to the Full Curriculum is attached.
