

We want to offer you accommodation

- Local councils are offering accommodation and support to everyone who is sleeping rough in Wales.
- This is because of Coronavirus, a disease which is currently affecting people across the UK and the world.
- Moving into accommodation will help to protect you and other people from the virus.
- You will have a safe place to stay, along with support and access to healthcare.
- We are asking you to move off the streets and into accommodation today.

What is Coronavirus?

Coronavirus is an illness that can affect your lungs and airways. Symptoms include:

- High temperature - you feel hot to touch
- A new, continuous cough - this means you've started coughing repeatedly

In most cases people will make a full recovery. However, you need to be extra careful if you:

- Are aged 70+
- Are pregnant
- Have a long-term health condition
- Have a weakened immune system

What if you refuse the offer of accommodation?

We will continue to offer you accommodation over the next few days, because it is really important that you move inside. If you continue to refuse accommodation we may contact the authorities, who have the power to take enforcement action to protect you and other people from the virus.

How can you keep safe?

If you continue to sleep rough, please take these actions to protect yourself and other people from the virus:

- Stay more than 2 metres away from other people
- Wash your hands in public toilets or other facilities
- Use hand sanitiser to keep your hands clean
- Don't share cigarettes, pipes or drinks with other people
- Don't share tents or bed down next to other people
- Cover your mouth and nose with a tissue or your sleeve (not your hands) when you cough or sneeze
- Put used tissues in the bin immediately + wash your hands
- Don't touch your eyes, nose or mouth unless your hands are clean
