Hi Kate

Happy to have a conversation about the correspondence.

Unfortunately, I have had to reprioritise Hywel's workload to focus on Covid and Brexit legislation which has meant that this case has gone down the list.

We had hoped to get to the point before Covid hit where we could write out inviting correspondents to respond to the public consultation. At the moment when we reply to correspondence it generally leads to more correspondence stopping us making progress on the main issue. Having said that, we have recently restarted work on the EIA for Barry Biomass and have been in correspondence with the developer about improvements necessary to the Environmental Statement before consultation can take place. It would be good to have the view of the DM on when she would like consultation to take place.

Importance: High

Neil/Hywel,

Would it be possible to arrange a quick 10/15 minute meeting next week to agree how the overdue ministerial Barry Biomass correspondence can be handled; possibly by co-ordinating a form of words to all/closing those that are months old.

Are the TO's outlined below in hand already or still require action?

Thanks,
Kate

Good morning

Please see below chaser – this has dropped off my radar a bit (due to the volume of late correspondence elsewhere) however planning is the area with the cases that the oldest now.

How do we want to progress these so that they (finally) get answered, albeit over a year late!

I suspect a number can be answered via a standard response, or possibly even one response to a campaign organiser, though there are some other ones on the list that are not related to the issue which makes up the bulk of the list.

For the majority though, I'm not sure if the issue is still live/ongoing if it is, it will be contentious during the election campaign (so we would presumably want them responded to well in advance of that to avoid it being an issue)
