

I would like to object to the plans for a solar panel farm at Leckwith , can no one see what is happening to the village of Llandough ? The over building of social housing , the expansion of Llandough Hospital and its excessive traffic through a currently over run village is absolutely abhorrent and dangerous. Continuing development in and around what once was a quiet undiscovered gem of a place is turning it into a small city but with none of the infrastructure to support such growth as the recent water pipe disasters have shown. Stop ruining what once was a good healthy place to live . Perhaps checking the air quality before Continuing with this process of destruction would be a better option..

Ursula roan