Dear all,

After reading about the new changes in the camping laws in England. The new laws state that campsites that are open from July 26th 2023 will be allowed to stay open for 60 days longer than the 28 days before which is an increase of 32 days without any planning development rights.

As a [REDACTED] I feel very annoyed, as there are no changes to the rules for campsites in Wales, we are still only allowed 28 days during the year.

With the extreme heat in the continent and britis canceling their holidays. This is another opportunity for campsites in Wales to take advantage of this crisis just like the pandemic of 2020 where all campsites in the UK had 56 days throughout the year.

What can you do to ensure that we here in Wales have parity with England?

Looking forward to hearing from you soon.

Regards

[REDACTED]
