The Integrated Natural Resources Scheme - Project Development Grant offers grants of between £10,000 and £30,000 to develop plans for collaborative and partnership working between farmers, land managers, foresters and other organisations to deliver actions and interventions at landscape scale. Supporting our biodiversity and ecosystem resilience commitments, our net zero ambitions and wider adaption to climate change.

The scheme will support groups of farmers, foresters, graziers and other land managers to develop plans with the support of other agencies such as Natural Resources Wales, environmental non-governmental organisations, charities, trusts and local and National Park authorities; to restore our natural features and processes, improve biodiversity and ecosystem resilience across individual holdings and the wider landscape.

There is potential to make a significant and positive impact through collaborative landscape scale projects and we want to support farmers and other land managers to develop plans together. Taking a collaborative and adaptable approach to support action at local level which makes space for nature alongside food production to meet the challenges of the climate and nature emergencies.
